Wine Description

On the flank of Mt. Richmond in the town of Yamhill, Lazy River Vineyard is planted in Jory soil at the western reaches of the valley, 400 feet above sea level. Significant weather and sub-soil variations throughout the vineyard demand careful block-by-block farming—and ultimately bring grapes of remarkable interest and complexity. The LIVE-certified vineyard is owned by Ned and Kirsten Lumpkin. This rare singular barrel stands out with earthy-floral notes of cherry and brambly blackberry on the nose and flavors of sweet soy, spice, and hints of cranberry and currant.

Winery Information

A quintessential Willamette Valley winery specializing in Pinot noir, Elizabeth Chambers Cellar was founded in 2013 by Liz Chambers, a 3rd generation Oregonian with deep family roots in Oregon wine. Winemaker Michael Stevenson has been making highly acclaimed Pinot noir for 22 years. Grapes are sourced from the finest local growers to craft elegant terroir-driven Pinot noirs, favoring a balanced more delicate style. The winery and tasting room are housed in downtown McMinnville's historic power plant and were just renovated in 2016.
