Wine Description

In 1955 Albert Camus wrote about this seminal work, "The Stranger" that his hero "is condemned because he does not play the game". With this wine, Siduri's first from the Zena Crown Vineyard (Zena, meaning "Stranger" in Greek), we have chosen to play no games. Instead we've worked to produce our finest Oregon offering from this remarkable property. This limited production wine is slated for sale only to our mailing list, but with this offering only you can partake is our wonderfully absurd quest to produce some of the finest Pinot noir in the world.

Winery Information

Founded in 1994, Siduri Wines is named after the Babylonian Goddess of Wine. Siduri Wines produces Pinot noirs from Oregon's Willamette Valley down to the Sta. Rita Hills in Santa Barbara County. Our portfolio is made up of Single-Vineyard and Appellation Pinots from some of the finest vineyards on the West Coast. Each wine is crafted by winemaker Adam Lee to be a pleasure to drink while also reflecting its unique origins.
